- There are 9 inductees in The TBC Environmental Hall of Fame.
- TBC owns 2 marinas - check them out here Atlantic Marinas
- TBC decreased the energy consumption at its headquarters building by almost 10% in the past 3 years

The Brick Companies hosted its annual charity golf tournament on October 4 at Queenstown Harbor. Since its inception in 2003, we have raised over $950,000 to support programs and initiatives of organizations in the communities in which our businesses operate. Our partners this year were The Scenic Rivers Land Trust and Audubon Maryland-DC. Both organizations were a perfect fit for our recently expanded "Good Works" mission of preserving and conserving unique natural spaces that reconnect people to the land

A Heartfelt Thanks from TBC

the brick companies

Thanks, Merci, Gmadlob, Ga' (yeah I did Google to find these). Thank you has many forms throughout the world, but here at The Brick Companies we want to thank you for all you have done this year and do every day to make our Company special and successful.

As we are all aware, these times are challenging and can be filled with anxiety. It seems like some catastrophe occurs with each news cycle, but there are so many more things to give thanks for when I look around our Brick community.

Many of the conversations I have had over the last year are exciting and inspiring; one of our own is back at school to get her degree and through her most recent class has discovered that her listening skills could be improved! (we should probably all take that class); another individual's spouse has received a huge promotion on a national scale in a public company; so many folks have pitched in unquestioningly here at the TBC Center to help out while Kathy recovered from her broken wrist suffered while decorating for our Halloween luncheon. There is a lot more good stuff; our buildings did not collapse during the earthquake; our marinas did not wash away during the hurricane; our golf courses made it through one of the worst hundred days of hell in good shape; (did all that really happen?)we have had a gorgeous November!

Finally, due to the effort, dedication and just plain hard work of every single person here at TBC, we continue to be fortunate as a Company and are making our way through incredibly difficult economic times successfully and profitably.

Happy Holidays and heartfelt thanks to everyone. It is a pleasure to work with each of you every day.

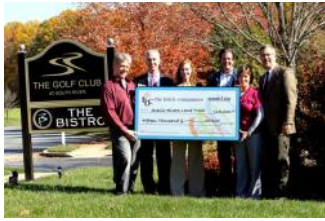

Cheers,

and inspiring others to do the same. Each organization received a $15,000 donation to support their programs and initiatives.

The event is always top notch. On the course golfers enjoyed food and beverage items galore including pulled pork sandwiches, crab cake sliders and a fresh seafood raw bar. There are beverages on every hole along with activities and contests to delight both avid golfers and duffers alike. One of the contests allows golfers who are willing to don ladies attire to hit from the forward tees giving them a better chance at an eagle or birdie.

(Check out the picture above!!!) We topped all of this off with an amazing silent auction, live music and a dinner/cocktail reception catered by our Bistro at The Golf Club at South River.

Thank you again for all who made the event spectacular this year!

It's True! - The Golf Club at South River went Private November 1!

TBC is proud to announce that its club in Edgewater is finally private. The Golf Club at South River has been in a public-to-private conversion process for the past three years and the decision to go fully private was made as our membership has reached nearly 200.

Planning is underway for the two-story addition to the Clubhouse that will include a state of the art fitness facility, a Kid's Club, men's and ladies locker rooms with steam showers. The Clubhouse addition will also include our full service golf shop and offices for the golf staff. An inside golf instruction area will be offered where Members can practice or have a swing analysis performed by one of the Club's PGA Professionals.

The main level of the clubhouse will remain as the home of the Bistro, which will continue to be open to the public as a restaurant for lunch and dinner. A new open-air dining room and banquet area - the Adirondack Room - will be constructed adjacent to the Bistro offering an upscale atmosphere for our Members and an ideal area for dinners, private gatherings and brunch.

To review the renderings of the clubhouse construction, please see phase II under the "Clubhouse" tab on the home page of our website www.golfclubsr.com.
