NEW ATLANTIC GOLF TWITTER ACCOUNT LETS YOU ‘TWEET FOR YOUR TEE TIME’ & TALK ABOUT GOLF THIS SEASON

EDGEWATER, Md. (March 16, 2009) – Atlantic Golf, owner of Queenstown Harbor, The Golf Club at South River and Potomac Ridge golf courses in Maryland, today announced that golfers can use the social media tool Twitter this season to communicate with the course management teams, talk about golf and even set up tee times via direct messages.

“More and more people as well as companies are using social media tools to communicate with one another so we are providing that convenience for our players who wish to interact with us online,” said Lex Birney, president and CEO of The Brick Companies, the Edgewater, Md.-based operator of the golf courses.

On Twitter, a free micro-blogging service, users can go to @AtlanticGolf to engage in conversations about golf, view regular updates regarding all three courses, and request tee times or respond to special discounts and promotions.

Atlantic Golf also established a blog – www.atlanticgolf.wordpress.com – where golfers can read updates as well as interact with the golf course management through the blog comments section.

“Social media is all about engaging in two-way conversations and we’re looking forward to talking with players through Twitter and our blog this season, although nothing beats a personal connection, so we’re looking forward to seeing everyone in-person and with golf clubs in hand,” Birney said.

Queenstown Harbor is located in Queenstown on Maryland’s Eastern Shore, The Golf Club at South River is in Edgewater, Md., and Potomac Ridge is in Waldorf, Md. For more information visit www.mdgolf.com.
